National Grid Electricity Transmission Stakeholder Group

Description
At the twelfth meeting of the independent electricity transmission stakeholder user group, the members challenged the NGET proposals on the consumer value proposition and NGET gave an update on key actions in advance of the final business plan submission. The stakeholder group then discussed and finalised their views on each element of the business plan. Any outstanding challenges were noted for resolution after final business plan submission. The independent stakeholder user group continue to develop their report which will be published by the 23rd December 2019.
